Annual Report 2016

WHAT WE DO

Founded in 2007, The Resolution Project, Inc. is a U.S. 501(c)(3) nonprofit dedicated to fostering youth leadership development around the world through collaborative social entrepreneurship.

OUR VISION

A generation of leaders with a lifelong commitment to social responsibility

OUR MISSION

To develop socially responsible young leaders and empower them to make a positive impact today

LETTER FROM OUR LEADERSHIP

Dear Friends,

Thank you for another astonishing year at Resolution—it is you and your partnership in Resolution’s mission that makes this work possible! Our Social Venture Challenges and Fellowship have reached new audiences and continue to ignite and empower an increasingly diverse and global community of young changemakers who become driving forces for good; our partnership model continues to build pathways for young people and organizations to expand their impact and extend their efforts in the social sector; and our organizational leadership made a seamless transition to lay the groundwork for growth ahead.

In 2016, we ran two new Social Venture Challenges representing firsts for the organization: our first ever SVC on the continent of Africa in partnership with the MasterCard Foundation at the Baobab Summit in Accra, and our first at a conference focused on students of color at the CUNY BMI (Black Male Initiative) conference at Bronx Community College in partnership with BNY Mellon. Each of these conferences expanded the reach of Resolution’s life-changing opportunity, and connected us with inspiring and creative undergraduate students from new backgrounds who were seeking to launch social ventures and generate measurable benefits for their home communities.

We also expanded our partnerships significantly—some new partners include Sustainable Development Solutions Network (SDSN) Youth, Hello Tomorrow, Henry Street Settlement

Expanded Horizons, and Mustard Seed Impact. The MasterCard Foundation became an important strategic partner of Resolution’s, greatly supporting our efforts in Africa and more generally supporting our mission globally. We also welcomed Aramark, Neuberger Berman, and UBS as strategic partners in 2016. Of course, our longest tenured partners, Resolution’s own Guides and volunteers, continue to shine brightly as the anchor point for our direct work with our Fellows, and we are deeply grateful to each of our over 200 Guides for their commitment and generosity.

2016 brought other emotions as well. We were sorry to see Tracey Allard move on from the Executive Director role after accomplishing so much for the organization, but we were thrilled that she chose to stay on as a Resolution Ambassador. We were also glad that the organization’s leadership transition was buffered by the Board’s decision to bring George Tsiatis on as CEO. As a co-Founder, George’s knowledge of and respect within the organization will enable him to take on key goals around building strategy, technology, and visibility.

We are pleased to share this annual report and highlight our collective impact. For your support and investment in our mission, we are deeply grateful, and we look forward to our continued partnership supporting socially responsible leaders in creating positive impact today.

Sincerely,

Oliver B. Libby, George M. Tsiatis, Howard Levine.

OUR HISTORY

Since Resolution's inception in 2007, we have provided a pathway to action for over 250 creative, energetic undergraduate students around the world. Thanks to the generosity of our friends, volunteers, donors, and supporters, we have grown from 20 Fellows at the end of 2011 to more than 255 Resolution Fellows today. These Fellows are working in 20 U.S. states and 60 countries, developing innovative approaches and sustainable solutions to pressing global issues. They are driving progress in their communities, and their efforts have benefited more than 1 million people thus far—making each Resolution Fellow a change agent and a force for good.

Resolution Fellows are as diverse as the issue areas and geographies they serve—economically, racially, and ethnically. Our Fellows originate from countries including the Dominican Republic, Ghana, China, Zimbabwe, Honduras, Bangladesh, Mongolia, Indonesia, the United States, and many more. These Fellows are implementing ventures both in their own countries of origin and beyond.

Resolution believes that activating young people through social entrepreneurship has an enormous impact—they become engaged early in making positive changes in the world, and the character of their leadership is defined by a sense of social responsibility.

OUR IMPACT

1,078,722 direct and indirect beneficiaries of Fellow-implemented social ventures.

207 paid employees of Fellow-implemented social ventures (not including Fellows employed at their own venture).

More than $4,500,000 raised by Fellows in follow-on funding through external grants and independent fundraising.

FELLOW SPOTLIGHTS

SHARIF SHRESTHA HERB Cooperative For Economic Empowerment

About the Fellow

Sharif is a co-founder of “Herb Cooperative for Economic Empowerment” (also known as Herbs for Change), a social venture that aims to alleviate poverty and promote gender equality in Mude and Chiraite, two remote villages in eastern Nepal. Sharif is currently studying Biochemistry at Hamilton College, where he is a social innovations team member and student assistant at The Arthur Levitt Public Affairs Center. Since becoming a Fellow, Sharif has been very active in the Fellow community in New York, including attending socials and Resolve 2015, participating in the 2015 Fellow Solution Session, and representing Resolution at the Social Good Summit. He also has been hard at work on his social venture, which was one of the featured Commitments at the 2016 Clinton Global Initiative University Meeting in Berkeley, CA. Sharif presented his Commitment on stage with President Bill Clinton, and his presentation can be viewed here (Sharif starts speaking at minute three).

The Issue and His Resolution

Motivated to address both the abject poverty and gender inequality that he witnessed in rural Nepal, Sharif and his team founded the Herb Cooperative for Economic Empowerment. The social venture, which utilizes a worker cooperative model, is introducing new farming techniques and markets for herbs that are native to the region. By making small adjustments to their farming practices, people are able to greatly increase their revenue, with the ultimate goal of increasing an individual’s income by 200%. In addition, to help break down some of the gender inequality and income disparity that is often found in these farming communities, the model of the social venture is set up to ensure that both men and women are engaged and have equal status in the cooperative.

How We Help

Sharif credits his Resolution Fellowship with giving him access to a network of socially-responsible leaders and like-minded peers, alleviating the sense of loneliness associated with social entrepreneurship and providing him with external validation and credibility. In addition, his Fellowship has helped him feel more confident about his leadership skills and has enabled him to have a positive impact on two communities. Resolution facilitated several internship connections for Sharif, including connecting him to Resolution Board Member Stephen Sadove, Deallus Consulting, and Bristol-Myers Squibb. Sharif also works closely with his Resolution Guide, Raafi-Karim Alidina, a Research Analyst who has done extensive research on development and gender equality throughout Asia. At CGI U 2016, Sharif spoke to the new SVC Winners about how pivotal his Fellowship experience has been for him and welcomed them graciously to the community.

SAM PEURIFOY USolar

About the Fellow

Sam Peurifoy is the founder of “USolar,” an education initiative that helps Miami-Dade public middle school students understand alternative energy through hands-on workshops. Sam graduated from the University of Miami in 2016 with a B.S. in chemistry and mathematics, with emphases in organic synthesis and statistical analysis. He is currently at Columbia University pursuing a PhD in chemistry with full tuition and stipend support from the Department of Defense’s NDSEG Fellowship. Prior to his graduation from the University of Miami, Sam spent the summer conducting complex chemical research on light-emitting particles in Paderborn, Germany, as part of a Research Internship in Science and Engineering (RISE) scholarship awarded by the Deutscher Akademischer Austausch Dienst (German Academic Exchange Service).

The Issue and His Resolution

Growing up in Missouri, Sam observed a serious deficit within the public school system’s science-based resources and programs. He responded to this educational gap by creating USolar, an organization that empowers university students to volunteer at Miami-Dade public middle schools and provide workshops on alternative energy and environmental protection. This program provides students with information on sustainable energy and demonstrates how easy it is to understand alternative energy. The workshops are broken down into 45-minute sessions; during the first half hour a USolar volunteer will present about solar power and alternative energy. This is followed by 15 minutes of hands-on learning, when the middle school students are able to collaborate to create their own solar-powered module. USolar has about 80 of these devices, which consist of a solar panel, motor, and fan. This provides students with a dynamic, interactive learning experience and falls in line with Sam’s motto, “Seeing is believing.”

How We Help

Sam has received ongoing assistance from his Guides, Polina Dekhtyar and Siva Vedhagiri, who have helped with both USolar and his academic career. In addition to mentoring Sam with USolar, Polina and Siva have provided him with a plethora of career advice and professional development. Thanks to their support, Sam was able to speak with an associate at DuPont about internship opportunities. While Sam is currently pursuing his PhD at Columbia, he is still active with USolar and committed to finding a suitable person to take the lead and ensure the sustainability of the venture. Sam’s dedication toward educating students on alternative energy and environmental protection is making a brighter future, today!

YULKENDY VALDEZ | Project 99

About the Fellow

Yulkendy Valdez is a co-founder of “Project 99,” an international nonprofit that works to provide collaborative spaces for youth to create innovative solutions addressing diversity and inclusion challenges. Yulkendy is currently attending Babson College and is working toward a degree in business administration, with a concentration in global business management and social responsibility. In the past three years, she has interned with a number of prestigious organizations, including Bank of America, EY, and Insight. Throughout her collegiate career, Yulkendy has traveled to over 20 countries. She also spent a semester studying emerging economies in Russia, China, and India and participated in entrepreneurship and leadership programs in Rwanda and Uganda. Yulkendy is also a Women’s Leadership Scholar; she has received numerous scholarships from the Hispanic Heritage Foundation, Adelante Fund, and the National Black MBA Association.

The Issue and Her Resolution

Project 99 was designed as a response to personal discrimination and injustices that Yulkendy experienced as a child upon her arrival to America from the Dominican Republic. Through a collaborative and experimental approach, Yulkendy, along with her co-founder Josue Plasencia, have begun to combat these social injustices. The Project 99 curriculum is broken down into two programs that are modeled on effective entrepreneurship and facilitative leadership techniques. The programs allow diverse groups of people to work together and co-create solutions to address social challenges that matter to them. The Global Experiences program is a seven-day immersion course that provides a platform for students, young professionals, and entrepreneurs to share best practices around community building, social entrepreneurship, and leadership. Equitable Workplaces is a one-day experiential leadership program that’s tailored to large-scale organizations.

How We Help

Yulkendy has received ongoing assistance from her Guides, Nicole Chavas and Amanda Rivera, who have aided in the progress of Project 99 and have provided her with professional development opportunities. Nicole and Amanda have played integral roles in helping Yulkendy to refine her business model and create an effective and cohesive core curriculum for Project 99. Yulkendy presented her challenge to other Resolution Fellows at the 2016 Solution Session, working to brainstorm and come to actionable solutions to bring back to her team. Yulkendy also spoke at the 2016 Resolve Gala as a keynote speaker in front of 600 attendees. While completing her degree at Babson College, Yulkendy continues to combat social injustices and inspire us through her dedication to and perseverance with Project 99!

WANDILE MTHIYANE

Ubuntu Design Group

About the Fellow

Wandile Mthiyane is the founder of “Ubuntu Design Community Half House Project,” a social venture that uses architecture to empower and equip local residents in South Africa with skills to create sustainable housing solutions. Wandile studied architecture at Andrews University in Berrien Springs, Michigan, on a full-tuition scholarship. Throughout his collegiate career at Andrews University, Wandile served as a university ambassador, a delegate for One Young World, a field representative for the National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB), and the president of his university’s American Institute of Architecture Students chapter. In addition to his stellar portfolio of extracurricular activities, Wandile co-created a program called XXX, which gave young collegiate students an opportunity to talk and learn about sex in a safe environment. This program addressed a variety of issues and provided advice to young people who had been victims of sex crimes. Since graduating in the spring of 2016, Wandile has taken a full-time role supporting and promoting the Ubuntu Design Group.

The Issue and His Resolution

Having grown up in the shanty towns of Durban, South Africa, and experienced the impoverished conditions of the community firsthand, Wandile was determined to return home and create a sustainable positive impact. Wandile and the Ubuntu Design Group are devising measurable and lasting solutions by empowering marginalized communities with sustainable and affordable housing. In collaboration with a family and the local community, Wandile and his team design and build the core of a house, including all the utilities, leaving space for the family to expand on the structure if they have the means and interest to do so. This model not only involves the community in a substantive way but also builds ownership and a feeling of accomplishment for the family that is served.

How We Help

Wandile has received ongoing assistance from his incredible Guides, Jaymin Kim and Jack Spitsin, who have been integral to the progress of the Ubuntu Design Group and have provided him with professional development opportunities. Jaymin and Jack helped Wandile receive necessary legal advice on registering as an organization in order to access substantial funding from Andrews University. This capital will be the foundation of Ubuntu’s first house in January 2017. Wandile was also featured as a keynote speaker at Resolve 2016, where he spoke about his venture in front of 600 people at the Harvard Club of New York. Through his innovative and affordable housing solutions for marginalized populations, Wandile continues to be an entrepreneur in the world of global development and architecture!

RESOLUTION SOCIAL VENTURE CHALLENGES

Resolution activates and empowers young leaders through our Social Venture Challenges (“SVCs”), multi-stage pitch competitions that combine web-based submissions, live rounds of presentations, and due diligence. We partner with an incredible network of Host Conferences and invite undergraduate students attending those conferences and gatherings to propose social ventures through the SVC. At the end of each SVC, we award Resolution Fellowships to those young entrepreneurs with the most compelling personal leadership characteristics and potentially impactful social venture proposals.

CORPORATE PROGRAM PARTNERS

Thank you to our dedicated Corporate Program Partners for their generous donations of time and talent. Their commitments enable Resolution to provide robust mentorship, in-depth training, and other resources to our global community of young leaders.

Through the joint initiative, SEED (Social Entrepreneurship Education and Development), Resolution and General Electric are working together to tackle pressing global challenges. These individuals are truly dedicated to our organization, serving as Guides and Subject Matter Experts with real-world insights and technical expertise for our Fellows. With support from GLG (Gerson Lehrman Group), Resolution Fellows receive targeted technical, strategic, and operational advice from more than 350,000 experts around the world. With GLG's standing as the world's largest membership-based network for professional learning and expertise, we are truly grateful for the ability to leverage this immense network for the benefit of our Resolution Fellows worldwide. Our friends at JP Morgan Chase & UBS provide energetic team members to serve as Guides to Fellows and as judges at our Social Venture Challenges throughout the year.

JPMORGAN CHASE & CO.

PATHWAY PARTNERSHIP

In partnership with these organizations, Resolution is engaging more undergraduate students in our Social Venture Challenge opportunities, while directing existing Fellows to additional opportunities for success. We are grateful to these organizations for their commitment to social change and the idea that young people can make a difference.

“Atlas Corps was an incredible opportunity to live and serve in Colombia working with the Ministry of Education and Heart for Change. I had the opportunity to strengthen my leadership skills through designing English games and activities for language curriculum and leading English, science and yoga classes. The Resolution Project connected me with the Atlas Corps coordinator and opened a door to the next step through Atlas Corps that also gave me the phenomenal opportunity to present at the World Summit for Nobel Peace Laureates, work directly with the Colombian Minister of Education, Yaneth Giha, and meet some of the most kind and wonderful individuals, both Atlas Corps fellows and Colombians.”

Dawn Musil, Resolution Fellow

“Watson provides a unique opportunity for social entrepreneurs with an idea to convert their passion into meaningful action. Through their unique curriculum, a network of mentors and access of resources, it allowed me to further grow our idea to become a structured venture. In addition to focusing on venture growth, it also focuses on personal development of young social entrepreneurs to have more resilience and grit in their life, as a result allowing scholars to lead a more intentional and sustainable life.”

Abhinav Khanal, Resolution Fellow

*These organizations provide Resolution Fellows with opportunities for follow-on funding and investment, additional mentorship, access to incubator programs, and a variety of other resources.

VOLUNTEERS

Resolution volunteers comprise an enthusiastic and dedicated group of professionals who utilize their experience and skills to support Resolution as an organization and Resolution Fellows along their pathway to action. Each volunteer plays a unique and crucial role to our model's success. Through their technical support, mentorship, and leadership, our community of 500+ volunteers is devoted to bringing social change to the world. We are thankful for their unwavering commitment to our mission and our Fellows!

In 2016, Resolution added two Co-Chairs and a Vice Chair to its Resolution Leadership Council (RLC). These positions honor both the longstanding commitment and outstanding achievement of three individuals while providing the RLC with additional leadership from within.

RLC CO-CHAIRS AND VICE CHAIR

ERIC SPORKIN has been volunteering with Resolution since 2013 as the Development Lead of Team Resolution. In addition to being the fearless leader of Resolution's athletic arm, Eric is the Director of The Resolution Institute, a social entrepreneurship curriculum for Resolution Fellows. He became a Leadership Council Co-Chair this year.

BOB HAMLIN has been volunteering with Resolution since 2013. He is the Director of SVC Relations and a Guide Leader. While an undergraduate at Harvard, Bob helped lead Harvard World Model United Nations (WorldMUN) and worked closely with the Resolution Project's staff to support its early Social Venture Challenge competitions in partnership with WorldMUN. This year, he became a Co-Chair of the Leadership Council.

REMEN OKORUWA has been volunteering with Resolution since 2012 as a member of our Leadership Council. While at Harvard University, he helped lead World Model United Nations during its 2010 Taiwan and 2011 Singapore conferences, coordinating efforts for The Resolution Project. As of this year, he has been named Vice Chair of the Leadership Council.

Resolution is truly grateful for the contributions that each of these volunteers has made to its success and thanks them for their continued service!

EVENTS

RESOLVE 2016 - 10/13/2016

THE HARVARD CLUB OF NEW YORK CITY

This year, we hosted our 7th Annual Resolve Gala, raising more than $400,000 with the help of our network of sponsors and generous donors. Funds raised at the Resolve Gala are vital in supporting our global network of Fellows. Over 600 guests explored our “World of Sustainability,” featuring interactive installations that highlighted the diversity of issue areas our Fellows are tackling and offered an in-depth look at a few of their social ventures. We were pleased to hear from Fellows Wandile Mthiyane and Yulkendy Valdez and to highlight Samir Goel and Hannah Dehradunwala, who are tackling hunger around the world through their venture Transfertation, which delivered more than 55 pounds of leftover food from the gala to people in need at NYCRescue. Following our speakers, GRAMMY winner All-4-One blew the crowd away with a stellar musical performance! Resolve 2016 served as a testament to the positive change that Resolution’s network of volunteers, Guides, and Fellows are affecting, both in their communities and around the world.

We were honored to share the evening with other celebrity guests, including Hilaria Baldwin, Award-winning hit musical Hamilton’s Sydney Harcourt, Pretty Little Liars actress Dre Davis, model Louisa Warwick, Gabriela Isler, and Host Committee members Atti Worku (Miss Ethiopia and Founder, Seeds of Africa) and model Kathrin Werderitsch. DJ Ian Mellencamp provided music throughout the evening.

Our guests were treated to Resolution-branded gift bags containing special products from Runa Tea, Justin’s, Sabatino Tartufi, LXMI, Le Pain Quotidien, Tolita Chocolate, Deep River Snacks, L’oreal USA, and more.

We would also like to extend our thanks to our beverage sponsors: Campari and Etruria Wine.

Thank you to our entire community of sponsors, donors, volunteers, Fellows, and supporters for making this evening a great success.

YOUNG LEADERS NOW AWARD DINNER

6/8/16

THE HARVARD CLUB OF NEW YORK CITY

In 2016, we hosted our 3rd Young Leaders Now Award Dinner and reception. The purpose of YLN is to celebrate and recognize inspiring leaders who began successfully changing the world while still in college. We welcomed several Resolution Fellows and more than 100 guests for an intimate evening dedicated to supporting the impact of young leaders and the important role they play in the social sector.

This year's YLN event honored Geraldine Acuña-Sunshine, founder of Harvard World Model United Nations and Senior Counsel for Bracebridge Capital. Geraldine founded WorldMUN as an undergraduate at Harvard College. Today, this annual global conference continues to thrive, impacting tens of thousands of students and inspiring many more including in the more than twenty countries in which WorldMUN has been hosted. In honor of Geraldine's accomplishments as a young social entrepreneur, as well as her long service to Resolution as a Board Member, a Social Venture Challenge judge, and a most generous supporter, we were proud to present her with the Young Leaders Now Award. In addition, because of Geraldine's crucial role in Resolution's growth, we will henceforth be presenting future honorees with The Geraldine Acuña-Sunshine Young Leaders Now Award.

We were also excited to recognize Jacqueline Novogratz, Founder and CEO of Acumen, with the Champions Circle Award for Supporting Young Leaders. This award is presented to top leaders who throughout their careers have distinguished themselves as champions for social change and advocates for entrepreneurship. Jacqueline's extraordinary work fosters emerging leaders and social entrepreneurs and supports game-changing solutions that improve lives.

THE RESOLUTION SOCIAL

NEW YORK, WASHINGTON DC, BOSTON

In 2016, we were delighted to host three socials in New York, Boston, and Washington, D.C. We welcomed hundreds of young professionals to these events, providing opportunities to learn about and support Resolution's work while networking with Resolution's talented young professional community. With generous support from our sponsors, all three socials proved to be great successes and effective ways to bring the message of responsible, youth-led social change to a wider audience.

RESOLUTION RUNS

In 2016, Team Resolution (formerly called Resolution Runs) embarked on a strategic planning and rebranding process with the goal of better emphasizing its core purpose: to be a group of Resolution community members interested in leading more active lifestyles while supporting Resolution's mission. In addition, Team Resolution maintained its track record of successful fundraising, including by Leadership Council Co-Chair Eric Sporkin, who ran in the 2016 TCS NYC Marathon and raised more than $10,000 for Resolution!

Whether you are gearing up for a 5K, training for your first ultramarathon, or just looking to enjoy a casual game of kickball, Team Resolution provides a fun and active way for Resolution friends, supporters, and volunteers to get together, all while raising funds and awareness for The Resolution Project.

To join Team Resolution or learn more about upcoming events, email team@resolutionproject.org.
